OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

Mr. Gladstone Values American Approval and Bids for It—And Why?

"Unionist" Discusses the Irish Question From His Own Standpoint.

From our own Correspondent.)
London, Sept. 21st.

For Mr. Gladstone to have proposed the principal American toast at the banquet offered him by the Paris Society of Political Economy, and to have spoken in such enthusiastic terms of the coming grandeurs of

THE GREAT REPUBLIC

was considered a very adroit stroke of business. His speech, it is agreed, is certain to delight Americans, and therefore to render them still more favorable to the cause with which the Liberal leader is specially identified. But while it was natural enough for Mr. Gladstone to make such a speech, valuing American approval as highly as he does, and being anxious to efface the memory of his speeches during the civil war, it is very dubious whether the result will tally with his hopes. In Paris, as in London, he is leader of the opposition. The strongest aim of his old age is to build up an

ENGLISH HOME RULE PARTY

and of all the incidents of the struggle, that which most tires the allegiance of the English home rulers, is the interference of America. They are Englishmen, after all, and do not like to remember that the Irish agitation is supported mainly by American gold, or to perceive that America has an organized party in Westminster, wholly at her disposal, whose voting strength might on occasion be used for other purposes than the liberation of Ireland from parliamentary control. They had, much rather that Irishmen acted on their own impulses, and relied on their own resources, and are careful in hustings' speeches never to mention the foreign element in the struggle. They think it might excite prejudice, and even revive the old feeling that the United Kingdom can manage her own affairs, her own quarrels included, very well by herself. Those among them too who know something of history, and care to look beyond the results of an election, are a little uneasy at the position in regard to Ireland, which the United States of America, already than any European state, might under certain circumstances take up. One of their favorite arguments is that home rule may be risked, because even if Mr. Gladstone is wrong, and the worst came to the worst, the force of the two kingdoms is so unequal that the blunder could be easily repaired. Of course England could, if it were indispensable, reconquer Ireland at any time, and with ease. But they say all this with a certain hesitation, for they doubt in their hearts if England would do anything of the kind. And why? The answer is simple. The right of self-government so conceded would induce morally the right of self-government in foreign relations; and they doubt whether, in that contingency, America would be entirely passive.

A MUCH GREATER POWER

And for this doubt there is grave reason. The more common notion on the subject is that Ireland wishes for emancipation from English control only to attach itself to the American Union. This view weighs heavily with many well-informed men, and, what is of even more serious importance, with many continental diplomatists; but it surely must be mistaken. It is impossible to believe for an instant that Irishmen, however excited, intend to become, or to pretend to become, Americans. No, the Irish want to be a nation and commence a career among not to be lost in an amalgamation of states, whose central power must always be on the other side of the Atlantic. They want to govern themselves, not to be fettered in the bonds of a constitution over less reliable than that of the United Kingdom, a constitution which would leave the laws passed by the parliament at the mercy of a Supreme Court, always inclined to uphold the central authority in preference to the independent, and always bound to forbid all legislation impairing the obligation of a contract. Above all, the Irish want to be free of which they hate, not because it is bad, but because it is Saxon. How on earth, then, can people imagine they wish to replace the Saxon master they have by another much more difficult to hoodwink, as impossible to resist, and infinitely more ready to employ the final argument of armed force? The Irish would and do break American laws as readily as English. But there is the other side of the question; and not even if the Irish were willing would such a project be any nearer realization. The Irish vote is already the

SAXON ASCENDENCY,

STUMBLING-BLOCK OF AMERICAN POLITICS.

Are the States likely, then, to accept into their union another country which would render that vote still more unmanageable and preponderating? No. Politely enough, but with a humorous twinkle in her eyes, America would decline such a possession with thanks. Her strongest political tradition is non-interference in Europe, and her strongest dislike the possession of states, which, if they were seriously attacked by a great power they could neither abandon nor defend. Some day or other, it may be in our children's time, they will give up their isolation, but it will be to do battle with Europe for the mastery of the world, and the world's wealth, not to fight a single European state to gain an exhausted province. There are much bigger things to be had than Ireland, with only half the trouble; and the republic which leaves Brazil to its independence—an empty continent only asking to be filled—is not likely to yearn for four little districts not rich, except in grass, and filled by a population so crowded, or so poor, that it emigrates by the half million in every decade.

While this idea must really be regarded as outside the range of reasonable speculation, we are convinced that American opinion and American strength, as if once fully exerted, constitute two of the many dangers which would result from the concession of home rule. That measure would infallibly be followed by a declaration of independence. Some of the Irish leaders are fond of declaring, and possibly with perfect sincerity—but only, be it noted, when speaking on this side of the water—that they have no such scheme in their heads; but their best motive is the desire to be a nation with a separate career, and without independence they are not such a nation. The highest, and therefore in the long-run, the most effective aspirations of their people, would not be gratified by liberty as in a parish; and all the disappointment which must follow home rule, all its failure to alter either climate, or soil, or character, would be carried to the account of the incompleteness of the measure. England would always be accused of intriguing, always hated for her wealth, always suspected of meditating invasion; the causes of friction would be endless, and some of them justly resented by the weaker side, and in some impulsive hour the final declaration would be made. The vote once passed in Dublin, the independence of Ireland would be recognized by the American Union in a week. A hundred motives would combine to induce the politicians of Washington to recommend that course, and the people would accept it without hesitation. They have never quite forgiven England for recognizing the belligerent rights of the South. They have never forgotten that their own freedom was in part owing to French assistance. They manifest a constant desire to give Great Britain a lesson, the force of which desire markedly effects American politics before each presidential election. It is incontestable that they aspire to stretch the States over the provinces of the Dominion to the Pole, and make of the Canadian a mere accessory to their will. All these points, coupled with the anxieties of both parties to secure the Irish vote, and with the floating impression of Irish suffering, would tend together to induce the Union to protect Ireland. That with a state stronger than ourselves, with two millions of allies ready to die for her, living in our own streets, and with an indefeasible territory, which yet must be defended, stretching along her side. Even under these circumstances England must survive; but to say that they would not be serious circumstances, or that Ireland, in the event of rebellion, would be subdued with ease, is utter folly. No state, however powerful, will ever again do with ease anything to which the American Republic is strongly opposed. There is not a diplomatist in Europe who does not know this, or who does not hold that Napoleon III. was only safe in quitting Mexico, and that Prince Bismarck showed his wisdom, when, rather than quarrel seriously with Washington, he abandoned all pretensions in Samoa. Regarded from a diplomatic point of view, it is because of her American alliance that the legislative independence of Ireland would be dangerous to Great Britain. The danger would be so real that we rather wonder Mr. Gladstone did not take pains to avoid showing how deeply his Irish leadership makes him feel the ever-growing strength and irresistibleness of the union. It was of that he thought when he pointed out that already Great Britain was surpassed in population by the Republic, as a century hence, Europe, as a whole, will probably be also. He added, it is true, that there will never in the future be war between the two countries; but then, he thinks that self-governed Ireland will be in love with the people whom in free America Irishmen will not permit even to enter a jury-box. UNIONIST.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Meeting of the Victoria Jockey Club—Foot Ball Practice.

Harry K. Strave, the amateur footracer of Seattle, and at present captain of the tug Blakely, was married on Wednesday to Miss Jessie Livingstone, of Port Blakely. When Harry, who is well known in Victoria, first came to light as a swift runner he took occasion in a talk with his father to explain how it was he could run. He said: "Why, father, it is the easiest thing in the world to run fast. All you've got to do is to stretch your feet far apart and pick them up again."

THE TURF.

Fleetwood Park, N. Y., Oct. 11.—In the first heat Belle Hamlin won, time 2:16¾. In the second heat Belle Hamlin won and wins the race, time 2:19¼. Harry Wilkes is said so be in a bad condition.

GENERAL NOTES.

Dave Campbell, the Portland pugilist, is anxious to meet La Blanche.

The Victoria Football Club will play a Rugby practice game to-morrow.

Those interested in the formation of a jockey club will meet at Messrs Eberts & Taylor's office this evening.

NANAIMO NOTES.

An Assignment—Voting for Improvements—The Late Fire.

From the Free Press.)

Mr. Donald Smith, notary public, and Mr. E. M. Yarwood, solicitor of Ontario, have formed a partnership as insurance and general agents.

The real estate ratepayers will be called upon next Monday to vote for or against the by-law authorizing the Mayor and Council to borrow the sum of $5,000 for the erection of a new bridge across the ravine at Bastion street.

Arrangements have been made with the E. & N. Railway Company for their steamer Isabel to carry the mails to Gabriola, Salt Spring and other Gulf islands, also to Saanich.

Mr. C. N. Young estimates his loss in the recent fire to be $1500 and he is insured for $1000. The entire wardrobe of himself and wife was destroyed. At present they are residing at the residence of Mr. Jas. Dunsmuir.

The store of B. Aaronson & Co., clothiers, was closed yesterday, and on inquiry it was learned that the firm had made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors, who are mostly eastern firms. The liabilities are placed at $3,000.

The World's Fair of 1892.

A gentleman who is interested in the manufacture of a peculiar sort of iron piping states that certain New York capitalists are laying plans for the erection in that city of a tower which will cast the famous Eiffel tower in Paris in the shade. Jay Gould and Russell Sage, he says, are backing the scheme, and the intention is to erect a structure not less than 1200 feet high and 100 feet in diameter at the summit at a cost of about $2,000,000. The idea is to offer this tower as a crowning reason why the World's Fair should be located in New York. But the Chicago people are not to be caught napping in this way. The News of that city makes the announcement that its columns will be open to all persons who wish to make suggestions as to some characteristic feature which will render the World's Fair in Chicago historic in itself, as well as for the occasion which it will commemorate. This idea has been borrowed from London Truth, which is likewise asking for suggestions of novel attractions, likely to rival the Eiffel tower, for the next great exhibition to be held in the metropolis. Many answers have already been received. One person proposes a complete reproduction, on a grand scale, of Noah's Ark, with every detail that can be gathered from scriptural or ancient history. Another suggests a hole in the ground as big and as deep as the Eiffel tower, at the bottom of which shall be a spacious apartment for all kinds of amusements. Others propose various modifications of the original tower idea. Let no one now scoff at the enterprise of the Toronto Exhibition authorities in providing special attractions at their show.

The New York police who have been shadowing certain crooks have found thousands of dollars of new Canadian bills but no counterfeit money. It is believed they must have been stolen or intended either as decoys or samples to forge from. It is not believed that there are any counterfeiters at present working in Canada. However, there are in the possession of the authorities at Ottawa, letters from men in Canada making enquiries for counterfeit money who would shake in their shoes if they knew that their names are known.

THE HAPPY CZAR.

He is Hugged and Embraced at Berlin—Cheered by Thousands.

Temperance in Ohio—People Storm a Saloon and Destroy It.

By Postal Telegraph.)

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The Czar arrived here this morning and was met at the railway station by attaches of the Russian embassy, who did not accompany Count Schouvaloff, the Russian ambassador, to Kiel. The Czar was escorted by a body guard of the First Regiment of the Guards and a company of Emperor Alexander's Grenadier Guards, of which the Czar is honorary colonel. He was driven to the Russian Embassy. The streets were crowded with people, and the decorations of public and private buildings surpassed in every way anything of the kind ever before displayed in Berlin on the occasion of a foreign sovereign's visit to the German capital.

THE CZAR'S VISIT TO BERLIN.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 9.—The semi-official Novoe Vremya says: "The Czar's visit to Berlin will not affect the political situation. The grave injuries that Russia has suffered through constantly favoring the aggrandisement of Prussia, is now known and keenly felt by the Czar, who has finally announced his policy of unrequited complaisance. Germany will derive no advantage from the interview between the emperors beyond the removal of the anxiety arising from the repeated postponements of the Czar's visit.

The Czar and German Emperor on meeting

AFFECTIONATELY EMBRACED

one another, and the Czar shook hands with Bismarck. A brief conversation ensued, when the Czar and attendants entered the state carriage. The guard of honor defiled and assumed its place in the procession, the band of the Imperial guard played the Russian national hymn, and the state carriage began its route at a fast trot to the Russian embassy.

As the Czar alighted from the train an imperial salute was fired, but even this failed to inspire any enthusiasm among the crowds who gathered at the station; nor at any point along the route to the Russian Embassy did the crowd give vent to cheering with which they greeted the Austrian Emperor on the occasion of his visit. The Emperor was in the uniform of a Russian regiment and upon his breast was Russian decorations. Bismarck also wore the insignia of the Russian order. Admirals and several other officers of the English naval squadron at Kiel were at the station and were saluted by the Czar.

THE PRECAUTIONS

taken against approach of the populace to the imperial carriage were as perfect in effect as they were formidable in appearance, and the route from the railway station to the Russian embassy was lined with troops. There was some cheering on part of the populace, but on the whole the enthusiasm of the people was far from enthusiastic. Shortly before the arrival of the Czar's train the Emperor, with Bismarck, Count Herbert Bismarck and many generals of the German army and several German princes and a large number of government officials, reached the station and awaited the coming of the imperial visitor. The German generals representing the Emperor assisted the Czar to alight.

DEADLY WIRE.

New York, Oct. 11.—John Treks, a lineman of the Western Union Telegraph Co., was killed this afternoon by coming in contact with an electric light wire.

LOOKS LIKE LIFE.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Attachments have been issued against the property of nine directors of the Comptoir des Compte. Six of the directors are now in prison for violating the banking law. They will remain there until they pay in all nineteen million francs to the liquidators of the bank, which means a life sentence to most of the prisoners. Efforts are being made to save them.

RESISTING TITHES.

London, Oct. 11.—An attempt by bailiffs to collect tithes was defeated by a mob of parishioners who successfully resisted and drove off the officers.

VERY FASCINATING.

London, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Bancroft, who with her husband retired some time ago from the stage, will shortly return to the scene of her former triumphs. She will make her reappearance in "Belle Mammon," adapted by Bernard.

THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 11.—The steamship City of New York, is still aground. Mr. Fahnestock of the Inman line said: "We were disappointed in not floating our vessel at high tide. Twelve tugs are now at work at her and the number will be increased to fifty if necessary. The steamship must be brought up to her pier and it is only a question of time when the task will be accomplished."

LIFE ON THE RAIL.

Martins Ferry, Ohio, Oct. 11.—A passenger train carrying fifty miners to Wheeling Creek mine, and an extra freight train on the Cleveland, Loraine & Wheeling railway, collided early this morning near Bridgeport station. Both engines and several freight cars and two passenger coaches were demolished. Twelve men were seriously injured. The collision was the result of carelessness of the conductor of the freight train, as the passenger train had the right of way.

VOTES CAST—OBITUARY.

Paris, Oct. 11.—The death is announced of M. Adrien Sebert Taillhand, formerly senator, and ex-minister of justice.

The votes cast at the recent elections were divided as follows: Republicans, 4,012,353; Conservatives, 2,340,686; Boulangists, 1,037,505.

DEATH OF AN EX-LORD MAYOR.

London, Oct. 10.—Sir Benjamin Samuel Phillips, ex-Lord Mayor of London and ex-alderman for Farringdon, died to day, aged 72. Sir Benjamin, who was the second lord mayor of the Jewish faith, retired from the aldermanic court a year ago in favor of his son. He was elected lord mayor in 1855 and knighted in 1866 in recognition of his efforts to relieve the cholera sufferers in India in 1866.

THE SALMON PACK.

San Francisco, Oct. 10—By the arrival yesterday of the Katie Flickinger, from Chignik bay, Alaska, it is learned that a catch of about 44,000 cases this season, is divided between three companies, the Shumagon Packing Company, Chignik Bay Packing Company and Chignik Bay Company.

CRUELTY PROHIBITIONISTS.

Lima, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Several weeks ago the neighboring town of Lafayette passed a prohibition ordinance and all saloons were closed. A few days ago a saloon keeper of this city, named Romer, went to Lafayette and opened a place. The town officials got out an injunction to stop him. The judge decided in his favor and he resumed business with more openness than ever. Early this morning his place was bombarded by a crowd of several hundred people and the place was almost torn down and everything ruined. The people are determined that no saloon shall be run in Lafayette.

OFFER TO JAY GOULD.

New York, Oct. 11—A large publishing house has offered Jay Gould $50,000 cash and a royalty of 40 per cent. on all copies that would be sold of the work for a volume of reminiscences to be written by himself. Gould has as yet not replied to the letter.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The cabinet convened at noon to-day with all members present. The subject under consideration was what stand the administration should take on the silver question. Secretary Windom has been considering the subject for some time. The general impression among treasury officials conversant with the silver question is that Windom will favor allowing silver bullion to be deposited with the government and the issuance of bullion certificates therefor. His views will probably be adopted by the cabinet to-day.

KILLED FOR A TRIFLE.

Omaha, Oct. 11.—Samuel Peterson, a farmer living near Sarpy on the county line south of Omaha, fatally shot Lizzie Williams, the 16-year old daughter of a neighbor, last night. Peterson, who is under arrest, says the girl was stealing cabbage from his garden when he shot her.

MEXICO WANTS COOLIES.

A New Line of Steamers Established to Bring in Chinese.

New York, Oct. 11.—The Mexican-Maeno-Portuguese line of steamers has just been established. The steamers will start from a Chinese port, call at Macao, the Sandwich Islands, San Francisco and stop at Santa Cruz, Mexico. The new line will help greatly and promote Chinese immigration, inasmuch as Mexico is now carrying on several big works undertaken several years ago, for which it needs cheap and abundant labor. It is conceded that the projected steamship line will be practically supported by the government of Mexico, since its vessels will be mainly employed in the carrying of Chinese emigrants.

TALMAGE'S IDEA.

He Wants a Grand Religious Convention in 1892.

New York, Oct 11.—Rev. Dr. De Witt Talmage urges the holding of a monster international convention and universal peace congress in 1892, along with the world's fair.

"We would not allow the materialistic and monetary idea of the world's fair to overpower the religious," said the doctor. "There will be thousands of foreigners who will see for the first time a country without a state religion. Churches in this country during the fair of 1892 should be open every day, sermons preached, lessons read and doxologies sung. Another opportunity, if public men will but see it and our printing press will urge it, will be the calling of a great peace convention of all nations."

Dr. Talmage, Mrs. Talmage and Miss Talmage sail on Oct. 30th for a trip to Palestine, where the doctor will collect material for the life of Christ which he is writing. He intends to visit every place famous in the New Testament and will take along an artist and stenographer to supplement his own observations and notes. He will return the first of next year.

JOHN P. ST. JOHN.

His Name Dishonored—His Son Charged with Drunkenness.

Santa Fe, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Ada St John to-day filed in the district court an application for a divorce against John P. St. John, son of the Kansas ex Governor and apostle of prohibition. Two years ago Miss Ada Helphenstine was an attractive woman of Garden City, in Kansas. John P. St. John, Jr., was then conductor on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road that run through the Garden City. These two young people met and after the usual courtship, marriage followed. Six months after they separated. Mrs. St. John is now a resident of Toos Valley, N. M., her father's present home. The petition filed to-day asks for a divorce on the grounds of drunkenness and failure to support his wife.

WILL REFUSE TO RENEW.

The Alaska Commercial Company Want Protection or Nothing.

San Francisco, Oct. 10—Louis Schloss, of the Alaska Commercial Co., in speaking of Alaska matters to-day, said: "Our lease expires on the 1st of May next, but if the present state of affairs continue the company will not renew the lease, and I do not think any other company will get it. Illicit sealing is being continually and persistently carried on by desperate and criminally inclined classes of men. The number of piratical vessels in Behring's Sea is greater this year than formerly. The government cutter has done what it could, but it is entirely powerless to watch the whole region. The government must afford some protection or the lease will be worthless, for Behring's Sea seals are rapidly diminishing in numbers, and at the present rate of indiscriminate slaughter a seal will soon be as rare as a buffalo. Unless we could be guaranteed absolute protection against illegal sealing we would under no circumstances renew the lease."

THE BIG TOWER.

M. Eiffel Discourses on the Subject—One for Chicago.

London, Oct. 10.—A well-known London engineer, who was one of the 250 members of the Iron and Steel Institute entertained in Paris last week by M. Eiffel and the president of the French society of engineers, gives an interesting account of a conversation he had with M. Eiffel, in which that gentleman gave his opinion of the feasibility of constructing a tower on the plan of the Eiffel structure in Paris, of such dimensions as are proposed for the tower to be constructed on the site of the Chicago world exposition of 1892. In this conversation M. Eiffel expressed his undoubted confidence that the plan of the Paris structure with some slight modifications experience had suggested to him could be safely adopted for a tower twice its height, and that with this plan a tower of any altitude desired presented no engineering difficulties whatever, but was simply a question of outlay. If the American exposition committee were ambitious to possess a tower 2,000 feet high, they had simply to provide funds, and the structure would spring up from the ground in nine months after the order is given. Of course great care would have to be exercised in the erection of a suitable site, as upon this would very largely depend the stability of the structure.

Be Something! Do Something.

Young man, don't be a loafer and stick-whittler. Go to work! Do something! If you can't be a bank president be a day laborer. Do anything that is honorable to make money. Labor is dignified while idleness is a disgrace. Take the world as it is and the result will be in your favor. The man who works never stops his eyes when talking to you, while a loafer can't look an honest man straight in the face. His opinions on any subject receive not respect or attention, because they are not entitled to any. Lay aside false pride, roll up your sleeves and go to work and be a man among men.

THE TIMES' SPECIALS.

Sentence of the Megantic Outlaw—Sudden Death of Judge Oliver.

The Mission Bridge—Application of the C.P.R. to Build it Across the Fraser.

Special to THE TIMES.)

Sherbrooke, Oct. 11.—Morrison, the Megantic outlaw, has been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. The jury and people of Megantic and Sherbrooke are indignant over so heavy a sentence. The foreman of the jury said: "My God, I never expected such a sentence."

TO CROSS THE FRASER.

The C. P. R. Applies for Permission to Build the Mission Bridge.

Special to THE TIMES.)

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—At a meeting of the railway committee of the Privy Council held to-day, the Hon. R.N. Scott applied, on behalf of the Canadian Pacific Railway for power to build a bridge over the Fraser River, at St. Mary's Mission, with a draw of a width of eighty feet, the usual draw being one hundred feet. The City of New Westminster objected to the decreased draw but Scott read a letter from Provincial Secretary Robson saying that eighty feet would be sufficient in the interest of navigation. Sir John A. Macdonald said the matter would be taken into consideration.

A JUDGE DEAD.

Judge Oliver of Prescott County Dies Suddenly Last Night.

Special to THE TIMES.)

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Judge Oliver, of the county of Prescott, died here suddenly last evening. He spoke at the unveiling of the Father Tabert statue yesterday afternoon, and again at the banquet in the evening. A few minutes after the last speech he was carried to an anteroom and died in a chair. He has filled the position of judge for about three years, was forty-five years of age and had been in poor health for the last five years. It is likely O'Brien of L'Original will be the deceased's successor.

DOES IT MEAN WAR?

A Strange Order Issued from the Imperial War Office.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—The British war office has just issued the following order to the deputy adjutants: "On receipt of this communication you will immediately take steps to ascertain, in your several districts, the fullest information regarding all facilities for the transportation of troops from one part of the country to another, giving details as to the means of transport by rail and water, and also ascertain how many horses are available in your district at short notice for this purpose of military transport." Citizens are asking one another the following questions: "What is the cause of such a mandate from such a quarter?" "Is Great Britain preparing to engage in immediate war with some other power?" and "Is Canada to be unknowingly drawn into the struggle?" By many the order is considered as a hint that the alleged agreement between England and the United States on the Behring Sea difficulty is not satisfactory and that England wishes to show the United States that she is ready for business.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well Known Persons.

Captain James Ellis, a well known commander of Nova Scotia ships, was a passenger to 'Frisco to-day, where he will take charge of the British iron clipper ship Wolf. Capt. Ellis was for some years master of the largest Canadian ship afloat, the W. D. Lawrence, and was also commander of the Grandee and other vessels, and he has the reputation of making very fast passages. He is one of the crack captains of Nova Scotia, and was selected by the owners of the Wolf to take charge of the new vessel which had been left masterless at 'Frisco. He called here to spend a few days with some of his old friends.

Charles Palmer, Esq., Q. C., one of the most eminent lawyers of the Dominion and brother of Chief Justice Palmer of P. E. I., is in the city on a visit to his nephew, Capt. Palmer of O Battery. He is accompanied by his son, Mr. R. E. Palmer of Vancouver.

Mr. Chas. Hayward, who is attending the convention of undertakers in Portland, is expected home to-morrow evening. He is now second vice president of the order.

Ald. Harrison returned yesterday from the Portland exhibition.

Miss Maggie Jackson, who has been visiting on the Sound for some time, returned home yesterday.

Mrs F. X. Martin, of Vancouver, arrived on the Islander last night and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Redmond.

Miss Kate McLeod, of Berwick, N. S., arrived on the Islander last evening on a visit to her sister, Mrs. J. L. Beckwith.

Jas. Biggar, one of the Scotch delegate farmers who visited Canada ten years ago, and a landed proprietor of Scotland, arrived over the C. P. R. last night and left for San Francisco to-day.

James McQueen, a wealthy landed Scotch proprietor, who accompanied Mr. John Dyke to the coast, came down from Vancouver last night and took the steamer to-day for San Francisco.

Gideon Robertson, of Vancouver, is in the city.

Hon. Forbes G. Vernon is in Vancouver.

Hy Croft, M.P.P., and Mrs. Croft returned to the city by last evening's steamer.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q. C.)

A Cowichan Indian named [illegible] was fined $5 for being drunk.

Kitty Madden, an Indian woman, was up on the ninety seventh charge of being in possession of an intoxicant. The usual penalty of $25 or a month was imposed.

Lee Sing, an almond-eyed son of the Flowery Kingdom, was charged with stealing a chicken the property of Saml. Clay. Mr. F. G Walker appeared for the defence, and after some evidence had been taken the case was remanded until next Tuesday.

A remanded assault case was further remanded until the 14th.

Herbert Levy was summoned to answer to a charge of being a frequenter of a house of ill fame. He failed to appear and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Charles Lo Kin summoned on the same charge paid $20 fine.

Walter Wilson was charged with assault on E. Escalet. The case was adjourned until 3.30 this afternoon.

THE OBJECT OF THE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

THE TIMES quoted the other day from the Montreal Herald, anent the pan-American Congress, to the effect that if Canada expected to sell goods to the South American countries she must also purchase from them. The San Francisco Alta, discussing the subject of trade relations between the United States and South America, holds a precisely similar doctrine. The San Francisco Call, however, rejoins to the effect that the balance of trade between South American countries and the United States in 1888 was about $54,000,000 against the latter. Brazil sells the United States coffee and buys her manufactured goods in Europe. The proposition now is to induce Brazil to buy more freely of the United States, not because, as the Call puts it, that the United States will buy more freely of Brazil, but because the United States thinks that they can sell certain products as cheaply as Brazil can buy elsewhere. But, according to the Call, the object of the "congress" is not wholly for the purpose of establishing commercial reciprocity. Commercial reciprocity, meaning the interchange of the products of one nation for the products of another, cannot be the object of the congress solely, for the reason that interchange is now almost as free as it could be. With the single exception of the Argentine Republic the United States now receives South and Central American products free of duty; the South American States not being able to reciprocate because they derive the bulk of their national income from duties on imports, and to offset these by internal revenue taxes, the United States cannot in fairness ask. The staple exports of Brazil are raw sugar, caoutchouc, and certain drugs and dyes. These with the exception of raw sugar are admitted into the United States free and the total value of the raw sugar exported is only about $2,500,000. The exports of the Argentine Republic are wool, wheat, corn and hides, all of which go to Europe. Chili's exports are wheat, barley and guano which find a natural market in Europe. From Peru the chief exports are guano, nitre and cocoa. The leading export of Central America is coffee which is admitted to the United States free. On the other hand these countries import woolen and cotton goods, hardware and machinery and the various products which are consumed in civilized life. All these imports pay import duties, and it is upon the product of these duties that the government depends for support. Thus out of an income of say $69,000,000, i. e. 84,000,000 milreis are derived by Brazil, and out of a total income of $53,700,000 Argentine gets 39,000,000, while out of $46,000,000 Chili desires $30,000 import duties. Hence finds the Call the object of the congress is the "consolidation of all American countries into a confederacy which shall be none the less effective because it will not be expressed in treaties, nor defined in organic instruments; but will merely be an understanding that henceforth the nations occupying this continent shall be one for all purposes of self-defence, and shall be united by the substantial bond growing out of close commercial and personal intercourse." Doubtless the Call is on the right track, at least so far as BLAINE is concerned. His grand and central idea is the consolidation of the American countries and he imagines that the speediest way to accomplish this end is to impress the South Americans with the vast resources of the United States. Trade, therefore, from BLAINE's point of view is but an incidental feature to the consummation which he has in mind, and quite likely, besides, he wishes to crown what must be his last appearance in a public capacity with a pyrotechnic display of quasi diplomatic and trade negotiations which can scarcely fail to be of benefit to the United States, and which possibly may lead to a gigantic political consolidation, of which the U.S. would dominate as Germany does in continental Europe.

LARGE SHIPS.

The Cunard Company, it is rumored, contemplate the construction of two steamers which will surpass the record, if possible, of the City of Paris. Judging from the experience of the last few years, it is expected that the size of ships will be gradually increased until a tonnage of 40,000 is reached, making their trips at an average rate of twenty-five or thirty knots. The work is perfectly practicable without any further advance in the art of marine construction. The Great Eastern was forty years ahead of her time. She was of 25,000 tons and for strength has never been surpassed. Her great disadvantages were her excessive depth and deficient speed. Twice the size of the ships of the present day, her engine power was moderate, less than 10,000 horse. Six times as large as the Charleston, the United States cruiser recently launched at San Francisco, her engine power was not much greater, and of course she failed to meet expectations. There is economy in size. A large ship can be driven at high speed with relatively less power than a small one. The proportional resistance of the water diminishes. The space available for other freight than coal increases. A ship of 40,000 tons, with draught moderate enough to admit of entering port, and quadruple expansion engines of the highest power, could cross the Atlantic in four days and do it with economy. She would probably pay not half as much for coal and wages as four ships of 10,000 each, and she could carry 50 per cent more freight and passengers. The Teutonic, with a nominal tonnage of less than 10,000, displaces about 15,000 when fully loaded, and the new Cunarders will probably approach 20,000. We shall soon see the record of the Great Eastern surpassed, and then the field of experiment will stretch to indefinite distances.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The "sucking" politics of British Columbia has given birth to two more candidates who engage in an unseemly scramble for the job of government boot polisher.

Ex-Alderman CUNNINGHAM of New Westminster does not support the government from principle but because of the interest he has in the capital. He says the seat of government belongs to New Westminster and she "means to have it."

The Grand Lodge of the I. O. G. T. has adjourned its session. The good temperance people, who take "I Ought to Get There" as their motto, are making a plucky effort in the race, but still the fact cannot be denied that "hot scotch" is still several lengths ahead about this time of year.

If the official test of the guns of the dynamite cruiser should prove as successful as the unofficial test, and we see no reason why it should not, naval architecture and naval warfare will have been revolutionized. England's most powerful ironclad would be no match for the little Vesuvius. The next great problem, therefore, for ship builders to solve is the building of sea-worthy vessels of low freeboard with great speed, and calculated for ramming. No ship which will float can be made strong enough to withstand the shock of a dynamite shell fifteen inches in diameter by seven feet long. The imagination loses itself in contemplation of the next war, dynamite shells at sea and smokeless powder on land.

In the matter of the high duties on imports, as a measure for the protection of American labor, it would seem as if stupidity could go no farther than the protection afforded to the stained glass industry. This decorative art is struggling with a most absurd protection. The raw material pays about 45 per cent. duty, and the lead 60 per cent. and all the other details in proportion. Besides, completed foreign work comes in free if for religious use, and it is computed that at least three-quarters of the stained glass imported is for this purpose. Now, it would appear that to really "protect" labor, the raw material should be duty free, and a tariff put on the importations for religious purposes. But the great American congress cannot see it in that light. Actuated by dense ignorance on one hand, and phariseeism on the other, labor gets the crusts and the revenue the cream. No wonder Uncle Sam has a surplus.

The HATFIELD-McCOY families are not unknown to fame as surviving examples of the vendetta at the South, as remorseless and as cruel as ever characterized those of Corsican families. Recently there was a wedding, of which representatives of the two families were the principals. Naturally, as when feuds exist of this kind, the match was not approved by the whole tribe of McCoys, and remonstrance proving of no avail, the Winchester, or an instrument equally as deadly, was put in requisition. It was employed during the wedding ceremony, resulting in the death of the bride and groom and the minister who was performing the marriage service. "Life in that part of West Virginia," remarks the San Francisco Examiner, "to which the HATFIELD-McCOY tribes belong, is not subject to MATTHEW ARNOLD's criticism, that there is nothing interesting in American existence; but it has its little annoyances. That one faction should fire into a bridal party and kill the bride and groom is not surprising, but the sportsman ought to have drawn the line at shooting the minister. The practice of dragging mere acquaintances into family affairs is not consistent with the sanctity of private life.

Our contemporary this morning, fearful of being put down as the mouthpiece of Flegard street, still continues to attempt to justify its pro-Chinese policy on the score of the "Ottawa liar." We have only to rejoin that the Colonist's bump of eventuality is not large. There is, we should suppose owing to its indifference to the signs of the times, and the well known disapproval of the Imperial government to the Restriction Act, a depression in the Colonist's head where a protuberance should be; that is to say, speaking phrenologically. If we are wrong in our diagnosis from the symptoms which have developed themselves for the last two weeks, then as we have intimated on another occasion, the intention is that Mr. EARLE shall walk into parliament, as Mr. PAGE did, without defining his views on important public questions. The Colonist well knows that no man can be elected to parliament from this city, committed to the repeal of the Restriction Act. Were Mr. EARLE to be elected unpledged he can vote for the repeal of the act, and on his return put on the same face that the members did who acquiesced without a kick to the refusal of the government to make Victoria a point of touch for the Japan steamers. Naturally, therefore, the Colonist can see no virtue in the "Ottawa liar," although he is borne out by circumstances which prove him to be veracious. The Colonist has not yet, either by act or insinuation, given out that Mr. EARLE's political creed should be made public. It has on the other hand opposed the idea, and we are surprised that it should lend itself to so transparent a piece of jobbery. In order that the anxiety of our contemporary may be allayed, we will assure it that there is "nothing in the wind," so far as the TIMES is concerned, further than is apparent to every person. We are disposed to think that Mr. EARLE will make one of the best representatives that Victoria has ever had; but the fact that Mr. EARLE is an old citizen, respected, honored, does not absolve him from the first duty that a candidate owes the people.

—It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This oil is, on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed. *

—Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warren county, N. Y., writes: "She has been troubled with asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to act as agent among her neighbors." *

REQUISITION

To THOMAS EARLE, Esq.

DEAR SIR:

As E. CROW BAKER, Esq., M. P., has resigned his seat in the Dominion House of Commons, we, the undersigned electors of Victoria City and District, beg you to allow yourself to be placed in nomination as a candidate for the vacant seat.

We do this because we feel that at the present time it is imperative that Victoria should have the best men that can possibly be got to look after her interests; and as your business capacity, your large interests here, and your general fitness for the position, are so well known to us, we hereby pledge you our hearty support if an election is necessary.

REPLY.

GENTLEMEN:—I thank you most heartily for your very unanimously signed requisition asking me to allow myself to be placed in nomination as a candidate to represent you in the Dominion House of Commons, and also for your expressions of confidence as to my fitness for the position.

I have much pleasure in acceding to your request, and can assure you that if elected I will do my utmost in the interest of this constituency and Province, according to the present administration a generous but independent support.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
THOMAS EARLE.

ANNUAL SAANICH SHOW.

List of Prize Winners—An Excellent Showing of Stock, Etc.

For a score of years the well-to-do farmers of Saanich have met together in the autumn to compare the result of the harvest and to award prizes to successful competitors in stock raising, agricultural, horticultural and domestic arts.

Yesterday, Thursday, the twenty-first of these annual meetings, under the auspices of the Saanich Agricultural Society, was held at the society's grounds, North Saanich. A large number of people were in attendance from the surrounding districts and several from the city, though not more than have been present on former occasions. The threatening weather of the morning, and the very bad state of the roads, doubtless prevented many from going who would otherwise have attended.

The exhibition did not differ materially from other years, excepting that the number of entries were larger. In fruit and grains the display was perfect, the former, in both number and variety, equalling the best shown of previous years. The grains were also excellent, the sample of wheat shown by Mr. Simpson being equal to anything seen in any country. Several who visited the provincial exhibition volunteered the information that both in quality and quantity the Saanich show was superior.

Among the more tender fruits, grapes grown by Mr. John and peaches by Mr. G. W. Anderson were very pretty samples, as were also Mr. Bryant's in the same line.

Roots and vegetables, as might be expected after a very dry season, were behind though several really fine growths were shown.

Beautiful bread and butter was shown in fair abundance, but in fancy articles the ladies did not come forward so largely as on some other occasions. What there was, was very pretty, and received the commendation they deserved from the visitors.

In live stock the exhibit was quite large and several fine animals were shown, horses probably taking the lead.

Altogether the Saanich district show of 1889 was very creditable, much of which, it is safe to assume, was due to the indefatigable efforts of Mr. McIlmoyl, the popular secretary of the society, and those associated with him.

The arrangements had all been perfected by the officials and committee, who were untiring in their efforts to make everything a success, and the large number of people present were well satisfied with the result. The following gentlemen were the officers of the society for this year: J. D. Bryant, pres.; P. Imrie, vice-pres.; J. T. McIlmoyle, sec.; H. Brackman, treas.; committee, Messrs. S. Roberts, S. ## DIVORCED A DEAD MAN.

An Ancient Jewish Ceremony Performed in a Synagogue.

A Louisville, Ky., dispatch says: A ceremony rarely witnessed in the United States occurred at the Temple of Bnai Jakob congregation yesterday. It was the divorcing of a woman from her dead husband and his brother at the same time. The ceremony is according to the Mosaic law of the Hebrews, and is only performed by the most orthodox of that sect. This law, which comes down from Abraham, is that, if a woman is childless when left a widow, she is at the disposal of her husband's eldest brother. The latter may compel the widow to marry him, or by a simple public ceremony free her. But she can never marry another without being divorced from the dead husband and receiving the relinquishment of the living brother at the same time. The woman who figured in this remarkable ceremony was Mrs. Emma Levine, whose husband was murdered several months ago. The brother-in-law is Israel Moses Levine. Mrs. Levine desires to marry again, being but 23 years old, but she could not do so without this ceremony. Two rabbis from Chicago performed the operation, separation from the living from the dead. The temple was filled with members of the congregation and a few outsiders. The two rabbis seated themselves at a small table, Israel Moses Levine and the widow standing before them. The spectators left their seats and crowded about the man and woman. The rabbis asked Israel whether it was his intention to claim his brother's widow for a wife. Israel answered "No." Israel then crossed over to a front corner of the hall, the rabbis accompanying and the crowd surging behind. Here he removed one of his shoes and the sock, and rolled his pantaloon leg up to the knee. A member of his flock produced a basin, and kneeling down, washed Israel's foot. One of the rabbis then gave him a sort of moccasin made of bear skin which he placed on his foot. A sheepskin thong an inch wide and six feet long was then laced through the eyelets of the moccasin and wrapped about Israel's leg to the knees. Then the widow was pushed forward to where Israel was standing. She bowed her head to him, then knelt down and untied the knot in the thong, unwrapping it with her left hand from the man's leg. With her right hand she removed the foot-covering, and still kneeling, cast it behind her. This was symbolical of throwing off the bonds which bound her to Israel Moses Levin, her brother-in-law, through her dead husband. Then she spat twice, according to instructions, and began to pray in Hebrew. During all this ordeal the woman trembled from head to foot. Before she finished the prayer her face became ashen, she reeled, then fell to the floor in a dead faint. There was a panic in the temple, some of those present rushing for the door, while others began to shriek. After nearly half an hour had elapsed she recovered and was taken to her home by her friends.

FAUNTLEROY ON CIGARETTES.

The Little Lord Dispels a Horrible Suspicion.

"My child," said old Lord Fauntleroy to little Lord Fauntleroy, as the latter dragged himself in, looking pale and weak and wan, "it grieves me deeply that you have formed the pernicious habit of cigarette smoking."

"I haven't, grandpa; truly I haven't."

"Then why do you carry them in your pocket?" asked the aged man, as he inserted two fingers into one pocket of his little lordship's trousers and drew forth a whole package.

"O, grandpa. I never knew they were there! That bad little Jimmie Jones must have put them in my pocket to disgrace me."

"Yes! Then how is it that your lips and fingers are stained brown?"

"I've been eating licorice, grandpa."

"Indeed! Then how comes it that your breath smells of tobacco?"

"That bad little Jimmie Jones blew a whole lot of smoke in my face to make me sick."

"You don't tell me? Then how do you explain the fact that I saw you go down around the corner just a little while ago with a cigarette in your mouth?"

"Oh, that was I wanted to show that bad little Jimmie Jones how nasty it looked to see little boys with cigarettes in their mouths. I have been trying to reform Jimmie, but he won't let me. He hates me because I got a merit card in Sunday school and he didn't."

"My angel child. I am glad that I was mistaken when I thought you had formed the pernicious habit. Don't have anything more to do with that wicked Jones boy. He will contaminate you."

Its Excellent Qualities

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

NOTICE.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE THAT I INTEND to apply to the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works to establish a public highway from a trail on the west side of Okanagan Lake to the lake north of Trout Creek, commencing at a trail about 150 yards north of Hartrell's B. W. post running east through a natural pass for cattle to lake to the flat; thence north to the line between Gartrell's and my own land; thence west along said line to lake.

THOS. ELLIS.

Victoria, October 5th, 1889. oct5-1m

Certificate of Incorporation.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HEREBY CERtify that we desire to form, under the provisions of the Companies Act, 1888," (Provincial), and amending Acts, a Company as hereinafter mentioned.

1. The corporate name of the Company shall be "The Pacific Shoe and Leather Company, Limited Liability."

2. The objects for which the Company is formed are:—To conduct a general shoe, leather, boot and shoe manufacturing business, and to carry on a general trading business, and to purchase and hold and sell real and personal estate for the purposes of the Company, and generally the doing of such acts as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the objects of the Company.

3. The amount of the capital stock of the Company shall be one hundred thousand dollars, divided into one thousand shares of one hundred dollars each.

4. The time of the existence of the Company shall be thirty years.

5. The number of the Trustees shall be three, and their names are William Smyth, Stephen Fulton Meiklejohn, and Arthur Heathorn, who shall manage the affairs for the first three months.

6. The principal place of business of the Company shall be in the City of Victoria.

7. A stockholder shall not be individually liable for the debts or liabilities of the Company, but the liability of a stockholder shall be limited to his proportion (based upon the amount of his respective shares) to assessments legally levied, and the charges thereon, if advertised as delinquent during the time that he is a shareholder, upon a share or shares of which he is the holder, as shown by the stockholders' register book of the Company, assessments and charges thereon, when taken collectively, shall not exceed in the aggregate the value in dollars printed or shown upon each share when issued.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals at the City of Victoria aforesaid, the 13th day of August, A. D. 1889.

WM. SMYTH.
S. F. McINTOSH.
A. HEATHORN.

Signed, sealed, and delivered and acknowledged by the said William Smyth, Stephen Fulton McIntosh, and Arthur Heathorn in the presence of H. DALLAS HELMCKEN, Notary Public, B.C.

Filed (in duplicate) 19th August, 1889.

C. J. LUGRAT,
aug23 Registrar of Joint Stock Companies.

SEALED TENDERS ADDRESSED TO THE undersigned, and endorsed "Tenders for Officers' Quarters, Victoria, B.C.," will be received until Monday, 14th October, 1889, for the several works required in the erection of Officers' Quarters, Victoria, B. C.

Specifications can be seen at the Department of public Works, Ottawa, and at the office of F. C. Gamble, Esq., Victoria, B. C., on and after Monday, 23rd September, 1889, and tenders will not be considered unless made on forms supplied and signed with actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted bank cheque payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to five per cent. of amount of tender, must accompany each tender. The cheque will be forfeited if the party decline the contract, or fail to complete the work contracted for, and will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

A. GOBEIL,
Secretary.

—Don't let anyone convince you that Hastie & Lockhart have not the finest line of goods, and at prices equally as fine, until you have made a personal examination for yourselves. No. 62 Government street.

—The young ladies of the city had better be looking to their laurels as the young ladies at the Saanich ball had a peculiar effect on the young men who went out there last evening, some of whom have sworn that they will never go to a city dance as long as there is a dance in the country.

—A well-known citizen of this city who lives near a Chinese wash house was once the owner of a fine lot of fowls, but as he expressed it in court this morning, they have been growing beautifully less lately. Perhaps the proximity of the Mongolian clothes cleaners is a great measure accounts for the decrease.

I. O. G. T. Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of the I. O. G. T., completed its business last evening. After the opening exercises and usual routine business, Grand Chief McGillivray, general superintendent of juvenile work Sister Jenkins, and Bro. Holt, respectively addressed the lodge, expressing themselves as highly pleased with the excellent manner in which those so young acquitted themselves. Afterwards the lodge adjourned, and the evening session of the Grand Lodge began, at which reports of committees were received and other important business was transacted. The Grand Lodge subsequently adjourned, to meet at Nanaimo next year, each one feeling that the prospects of Good Templary for the ensuing year are brighter than ever. Already a first-class lecturer has been engaged, and is expected here in a week or ten days, and others are to follow during the year.

Arrived.

Bass XXXX Ale (Lamb's Wool) at the Occidental Hotel bar.

Ashcroft Exhibition.

The exhibition at Ashcroft yesterday was a decided success, considering its being the first effort in the interior. There was a large crowd and about 200 entries. The fruit and vegetables were very good, and the cattle and horses fair. The exhibition was opened at 2 p. m. by ex-Gov. Cornwall.

A Sailor's Bride.

John Wendt, second engineer of the steamer Boscowitz, was married in marriage last night with Miss Minna Nordin, the Rev. D. Freier officiating. The wedding was strictly private. The bride is a native of Germany and travelled alone from the Fatherland to link fortunes with the man of her choice.

Barbarous Football.

Sergeant Brimstone of C Battery met with a painful accident at Beacon Hill yesterday while practicing at football. In running at full speed, another battery man ran at him to retard his play, with the consequence that the sergeant's cheek bone was struck by the other player's shoulder with a force sufficient to fell an ox. The result was a fearful bruise which will need constant nursing for some time.

Whistle and go to Starboard.

Vancouver's morning paper says: In Westminster there seems to be no rule or system for passing pedestrians. They go past any way to get there, and it is ludicrous to witness the dodging scenes enacted here every day in the week. It is the rule in most cities to pass to the right, and it would be a good plan if the meeting Greeks stopped for a while and thought the matter over seriously and then passed to the right.

Ready for the Asylum.

The insane man Lawson, who was recently arrested on a serious charge, was removed from the city gaol yesterday to the provincial gaol. At present there are three insane inmates in the latter institution awaiting to be taken to the asylum at New Westminster, but owing to the crowded state of the asylum no room can be found for the three patients, and the provincial gaol is doing first-class service as an insane asylum in the meantime.

The Weekly.

The usual weekly paper was issued from this office last evening. It is a very good number for mailing abroad, containing a full account of the provincial exhibition and other important local happenings. THE WEEKLY TIMES continues to be a rapidly growing paper. Neither hurdy-gurdy nor chromo is offered to induce people to take it, yet it goes on increasing in popularity and adding weekly to its large list of readers, both within the province and abroad.

Improved Drainage.

Since Mr. Bailey has been appointed sanitary officer he has turned a part of his attention to the defective sanitary arrangements of Chinatown, and with good effect, for a decided improvement is noticeable in that locality. One very important piece of work was the construction of a box drain down Fisgard street, which is vastly better for health than the old open drains. The sanitary officer has also succeeded in having box drains put in by the owners of the property between Fisgard and Cormorant streets. This part of Chinatown has heretofore been in a very filthy condition, but with the improved drainage a change for the better is apparent.

For Alberni.

Hon John Robson, Mrs. Robson, W. H. Smith and Geo. Logan, are passengers for Alberni and vicinity by the steamer Boscowitz sailing this evening some time. Hon. Mr. Robson, having just learned that there are grievances to be settled and wrongs to be redressed in the settlement, goes down to smoothe matters over as well as he can. The general election takes place next summer. Mrs. Robson accompanies him for a change of scene and air. Messrs. Smith and Logan are bound for the fishing station of Ecool, situated on Barclay Sound, where they intend operating the dogfish oil works, which have been closed for some time. The steamer has a good freight.

Last Night's Entertainment.

The concert of the Snowflake Minstrels at the Victoria last night was a success as far as musical ability and the power to please went, but unfortunately for the financial part of the enterprise counter attractions kept a good part of those who might have been present away. As the entertainment was for the Jubilee Hospital fund it seems a pity that a better audience did not respond. Those who were present were greatly pleased, however, as the company is a really good one, the musical talent being first class. The farce "Good accommodation for man and beast," was deliciously funny, and had the true merit of the Snowflakes been known a full house would no doubt have welcomed them.

The Nine Hour Movement

The Colonist this morning announced that Messrs. Muirhead & Munn's employees had returned to work under the nine hour system while Messrs. Johnson, Walker & Flett's men were still out as that firm had refused to meet the spirit of the demand. A member of the latter firm told a TIMES reporter this morning that the item in the Colonist was wrong, and was calculated to place his firm in a bad light. As a matter of fact an arrangement had been made by the two mills with the men, concessions having been granted on both sides, and the mills of both firms are running, the disagreement having been amicably settled.

The furniture factory of Mr. John Weiler has also resumed work, the old hands having been taken on with the understanding that the nine hour system would be adopted.

A Lively Time.

Residents near the conjunction of Pandora and Quadra streets were startled last night by loud cries of "murder, help," etc., which came from a house in that vicinity about ten o'clock. A number of people who were of the opinion that a terrible crime was being committed, hastened to the locality from whence the noise arose, were subjected to another shock when the sharp report of a pistol broke upon the already shattered stillness of the night. It was believed by all that foul murder had stalked abroad, but a member of the city police who entered the house to investigate, quieted the fears of the crowd by stating that nothing serious had happened. A little excitement had been occasioned by a too liberal indulgence in whiskey. The white winged angel of peace then waved her broad wings over the premises, and all was serene again. A charge of discharging firearms within the city limits will be laid against the offending parties.

Little Lord Fauntleroy.

Little Lord Fauntleroy, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's own dramatization of her beautiful story, is now universally admitted to be the most successful play ever presented to the English-speaking public. It has already played to the greatest receipts and given more genuine pleasure and satisfaction to the crowds it has drawn than any play ever known. It has been running for two years in London to enormous business. It packed the great Broadway Theatre, New York, for 275 consecutive nights. It has broken the record of great engagements in Boston and other eastern cities. And it pleases, charms and delights all classes alike, both the young and the old. It is a glorious holiday occasion for the children. It draws from every fireside, from the highest to the lowest. It appeals to every mother, to every father, to every man, to every daughter. None can withhold praise from it. In a word, it is just what a critic has termed it, "The most successful and beautiful play of the age, and the greatest drawing dramatic attraction before the public."

PRACTICALLY THE H. B. CO.

An Accommodating Officer Spins a Yarn to a Reporter.

An officer of the Richard Rush informed a Seattle Press reporter that the sealing grounds will be a source of trouble so long as the Alaska Commercial company is allowed to control the seal interest. The officer said the Alaska Commercial company is practically the Hudson Bay company, and is purely a British institution, with one or two American stockholders. The company claims the right to all the seals in the northern waters, and a government boat is kept cruising about to keep private boats out of the company's way.

The six boats seized by the Rush for being engaged in sealing during the past season all claimed to be British vessels, but the officers of the Rush are of the settled opinion that all of the vessels referred to are American boats and owned by Americans, but chartered and outfitted in Victoria because it costs less there, and then by flying of British flag they might be able to better evade the law. Possibly the schooner Black Diamond may be a British vessel, but even this is doubted.

It was stated that one of the privateering sealers, an American vessel, got away with 3000 skins, but she got out of the way before the Rush appeared on the grounds.

This fact seems to have given a great deal of secret satisfaction to almost every one in the upper country, none of whom particularly like the Commercial Company.

There is a desire among the people of Ounalaska, as well as of Sitka, that the monopoly of the seal catch be taken from the Commercial Company and that the grounds be thrown open to everybody.

There is no immediate danger of seals running out, no matter how many go to catch them, as there is only, two or three months in the year when sealing can be engaged in, on account of rough weather. If the right to catch seals was extended to Americans only, the price of the prepared skins would be lowered to a reasonable figure. As it now is all the Commercial Company's skins are sent to Europe to be tanned and duty is added each way, which swells the cost to the final purchaser. It is quite certain that if all the skins were kept in the United States, it would pay an enterprising man to build and operate a seal skin tannery and preparing establishment on the coast.

VALUE OF RECIPROCITY.

A Trade in Lumber, Brick, Etc., that B. C. Should Share In.

A few facts concerning trade between the United States and Hawaii will show what should be accomplished in the same direction by this country.

The imports from the United States are very large. All brick used in the islands is imported from the United States, as suitable clay can not be found anywhere in that country. Lime also is imported for the same reason, and many other staple articles, as well as large consignments of wearing apparel, notions and groceries.

But the largest import by far is lumber. From 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 feet are imported annually, and about two-thirds of this is Puget Sound pine, the remainder being California redwood, and fancy wood, about four ship-loads of which are imported annually from Boston and New York.

Now, it must not be imagined by the large amount of lumber imported that these islands are without forests. The vegetation of all classes here is abundant and luxurious. But the trees of the Sandwich islands, like those of all tropical countries, are of hard wood—so hard, in fact that it is almost an impossibility to reduce them to lumber. The "ponu" grows there profusely and to an enormous size. This is a wood harder than mahogany. The "ohea" is also found there, and so hard is this wood that it is impossible to drive a nail in it, although it is used extensively for firewood,

But the Puget Sound pine is used there in abundance. The cost of freight is from $7 to $8.50 per thousand feet. It takes, under ordinary circumstances, about 24 days to convey a cargo of lumber from the Sound to Honolulu.

The prices realized for this product would seem large to a dealer in this country, but when it is taken into consideration that the dealer in Honolulu is obliged to carry a stock of 2,000,000 feet or thereabouts, not being able to order from a mill when they are short, and all the losses of importation, the margins are not so large. Puget Sound pine sells for $24 to $30 per thousand, according to quality and amount.

On the other hand, the same vessels that take lumber to these islands bring back cargoes of sugar and bananas, also, which are a large item of export from Honolulu. Every steamer that leaves there for the United States brings from 3,000 to 6,000 bunches of this staple product.

THE COLONIST AND THE ORGAN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR.—Those men, who at one time we saw on our streets grinding out music by turning the handle of an organ, became at last such a nuisance that they were called "organ grinders." The editor of the Colonist, by his continual harping upon the supposed shortcomings of THE TIMES, which he denominates as "the organ," is fast becoming as great a nuisance as those men carrying the organ, and is as fully entitled to the appellation of "organ grinder." He is everlastingly on the grind, busy turning the handle and grinding out the most discordant music about the organ. The editor of the Colonist has evidently got organ upon the brain. It seems as impossible for the organ to give him satisfaction as it was for the drummer when flogging the soldier—hit high or hit low he was never satisfied. Let us hear what he has to say in the last issue, and this is how he begins:

"The organ is evidently getting better; it does not scold so shrilly as it did and it is not nearly so bilious—nervous system though evidently out of order, it may be it is in search of a grievance, and on the hunt for ammunition."

One thing is certain, while the organ is in existence the editor of the Colonist will never have to hunt for ammunition, as abuse of the organ is the staple article of her existence, and its demerits the unwholesome food upon which he luxuriates and fattens. "THAT'S SO."

Went to Sea.

The bark Martha, lumber laden for Shanghai, went to sea this afternoon. The vessel has caused a good deal of comment, pro and con, but it is to be hoped a pleasant voyage will be made.

Very Dangerous.

The attention of the street committee is called to a dangerous cave in the street on Bastion square near Wharf street. It is small but could be productive of serious damage to a horse. It must be remedied at once.

Bad for Contractors.

This rainy weather is putting back the work of contractors and builders, although nearly all the firms who have jobs on hand keep their men handy and work between showers whenever favorable.

Mine Host.

When Captain Cox was on his way to the coast, Sir William Hoste travelled with him on the same train from Montreal to Rat Portage, Manitoba. His many friends in Victoria, and especially Mine Host of the Poodle Dog, will also be pleased to learn that he has become unusually flush with this world's goods since his departure from Victoria, but whether through trumped up inheritance or success in libel business, deponent saith not.

Naval.

H. M. S. Icarus arrived in Esquimalt about nine o'clock this morning and will be overhauled.

Admiral Heneage inspected H. M. S. Amphion both yesterday and to-day. One day was an inspection of the vessel, the other the drill.

It is pretty well understood that the Swiftsure will remain here during the winter.

For the South.

The City of Puebla sailed at one o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco, with the following passengers from this port: Edward Lewis, J. Van Bramer, Jas. McQueen, Jas. Biggar, Miss L. Stone, Mrs. R. Beauchamp, Miss Good, Miss Alexander, A. Maritail, W. J. Parr, Mrs G. H. Offersnus, Mrs. M. M. English and child, C. B. Anderson, R. J. Smith, D. B. Charleson and wife, John Kelley, Mrs. Jaggers.

That Craigflower Dance.

The petty officers of the Swiftsure visited this office this morning and made a statement concerning the dance supposed to have been held in aid of the organ fund of the Craigflower congregation. They assert that a committee, formed partly of the steward's staff of the Swiftsure and partly from the Craigflower district, gave notice that no person wearing blue cloth would be permitted to attend the ball. It might be remarked, as an explanation, that the stewards, not being enlisted men, do not have to wear the Queen's uniform. After this notice of non-admission had gone out it was found that the tickets did not sell very readily, and at the last moment it was signified that petty officers would be allowed to attend.

These officers, understanding that the proceeds would be devoted to a worthy object, purchased tickets liberally, but they are now given to understand that the Craigflower congregation denies that the money was to be devoted to an organ fund. Consequently the petty officers are anxious to know where the money has gone to and who received it.
